

James and Ysaye in Concert For a Music School Settlement

American Prima Donna and Belgian Violinist Delight a Big Audience at Carnegie Hall

James and Ysaye in conjunction were the latest attraction at Carnegie Hall. Supported by the New York Symphony Orchestra, under Walter Damrosch, they gave a concert for the benefit of the Lower East Side Music School Settlement that attracted a large audience. People of fashion, celebrities and music lovers crowded together and enjoyed themselves immensely. Suddenly they aided a woman.

An American prima donna, looking more than ever, was in her most serious mood, if not in the best voice.
